Hancock's Picture for Company D.—
A handsome picture of General Winfield Scott Hancock was received yesterday by.
Captain Lelloy Brown for Company D. of the First regiment. The General, who, by the way, is very popular here, responded with his well-known liberality to the request of Company D, and sent them the picture, handsomely framed in a gold gilt square medallion frame, elegantly mounted and ornamented with gilt flowers and festopped with immortelles.

The following is the programme: Statuary—"Priestess with Attendants Offering Sacrifice"; "Death of General Wolfe," to be repeated by request. Tableau—"Execution of Joan of Arc."
The triends of the company will be pleased to know that the enterprise has been a success in every respect. The Walker Light Guard is justly regarded as one of the finest military organizations in the city, and whatever it undertakes is sure to be worthy of the patronage of the public.

The picture is highly appreciated by the members of Company D, who propose to Usually there are two or three extra guards employed for extra services, and these are paid by an order of the Superintendent upon the General Agent. When the extra guards applied for pay on the 1st Mr. Scott refused to pay them, and informed the Attorney-General and the Governor of the facts.

These guards also appealed to the Governor.

As to the other allegation, it will probably not be difficult to prove that quite a number of Readjuster guards have yielded up their places to the former incumbents for moneyed considerations.
